

Domestic tourism sector sees stronger boom in PM's appeal

VAISHALI DAR & SUGANDHA MUKHERJEE
New Delhi, May 12

THE TRAVEL AND tourism sector is in a "wait-and-watch" mode following Prime Minister Narendra Modi's call for austerity in travel, among other things.

The Prime Minister's appeal to reduce foreign trips and overseas destination weddings, and instead prioritise travel within India, spells good news for domestic tourism, which is already witnessing strong momentum. Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948.19 million in 2024. According to an HVS Anarock report, this figure could surpass 9,500 million by 2030. At the same time, outbound travel by Indians continues to rise, with Indian national departures in 2025 growing 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019.

Anil Chadha, managing director, ITC Hotels, told FE: "Domestic tourism has always been a strong pillar of the Indian tourism sector, and this renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihoods, regional economies and allied industries across the country. India offers an unmatched diversity of experiences — from beaches and wellness retreats to heritage destinations, wildlife and spiritual tourism — making it possible for travellers to explore world-class destinations within the country itself." He added, "During the upcoming holiday season, destinations such as Goa, Rajasthan, Kashmir and the Himalayan circuits are expected to witness strong interest, creating a positive multiplier effect for the broader hospitality and tourism ecosystem."

KB Kachru, president of the Hotel Association of India (HAI) and chairman, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, told FE:

ANIL CHADHA,
MD, ITC HOTELS

This renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihood, regional economies and allied industries

■ Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948 million in 2024

NIKHIL SHARMA, MD & COO, SOUTH ASIA, RADISSON HOTEL GROUP

Increased domestic travel will just unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations

■ Indian national departures in 2025 increased 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019

"Prioritising domestic travel can accelerate domestic consumption and presents a huge opportunity for India's tourism and hospitality sector. It will also contribute meaningfully towards conserving foreign exchange." Kachru, however, added that "there is also a need for the government to encourage and support inbound travel, which will help boost foreign exchange reserves".

Rajiv Mehra, general secretary of the Federation of Associations in Indian Tourism and Hospitality, advocated easing visa restrictions, improving connectivity, and strengthening India's tourism promotions abroad to attract more foreign tourists and boost forex reserves. Foreign tourist arrivals in India stood at 9.02 million in 2025, 9.4% lower than the previous year.

Hospitality players said it is still too early to gauge the full impact of the Prime Minister's appeal, and the industry has not witnessed any slowdown in bookings or travel demand so far.

Nikhil Sharma, managing director and COO, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, views the development as an opportunity. "At Radisson Hotels, we are seeing this as a positive shift to strengthen our presence across diverse Indian markets through curated hospitality experiences tailored for domestic travellers. Nearly 50% of our portfolio in India is located across tier-II and III cities, and increased domestic travel will unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations."

Vision 2047 for India's tourism sector envisages a $30-trillion tourism economy, 100 million inbound visitors, 20 billion domestic visits, and nearly 200 million tourism-related jobs.

Renuka Kaushik, head of marketing, Jaypee Hotels & Resorts, said the shift is likely to be reflected more in spending patterns than in travel intent, with consumers opting for shorter holidays, domestic destinations, intimate celebrations, and more affordable experiences.

"The hospitality and travel

sector entered 2026 on a strong footing, driven by domestic tourism, weddings, MICE activity, experiential travel, and premium leisure demand. In this context, the PM's appeal may lead to a more cautious consumer mindset in the short term, especially among middle-income households," she said.

"Summer family holidays and driving destinations are seeing a strong revival, especially in northern regions like Himachal and Uttarakhand. Similar to the Covid period, whenever the global environment becomes turbulent, people tend to holiday closer to home," said Devendra Parulekar, founder of Saffron Stays, a network of private luxury vacation homes.

Rikant Pittie, CEO and co-founder of travel portal EaseMyTrip, said the Prime Minister's recent appeal could encourage a gradual shift towards more purpose-led and value-conscious travel. "This momentum towards domestic tourism could see further encouragement, while also supporting local economies and the broader tourism ecosystem," he said.

However, the Prime Minister's call to curb discretionary spending more broadly could also impact MICE travel — a significant revenue stream for the hospitality sector — and lead companies to tighten travel budgets. Several India Inc leaders have responded to the PM's call by pledging to reduce non-essential travel, a move that could affect MICE revenues.

Harsh Goenka, chairman, RPG Group, posted on X: "As responsible citizens we should try our best to contribute in whatever way we can". Corporates such as Mercedes-Benz India and Diageo India have already indicated that they will prioritise virtual meetings and limit travel to critical requirements.

Domestic tourism sector sees stronger boom in PM's appeal

VAISHALI DAR & SUGANDHA MUKHERJEE
New Delhi, May 12

THE TRAVEL AND tourism sector is in a "wait-and-watch" mode following Prime Minister Narendra Modi's call for austerity in travel, among other things.

The Prime Minister's appeal to reduce foreign trips and overseas destination weddings, and instead prioritise travel within India, spells good news for domestic tourism, which is already witnessing strong momentum. Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948.19 million in 2024. According to an HVS Anarock report, this figure could surpass 9,500 million by 2030. At the same time, outbound travel by Indians continues to rise, with Indian national departures in 2025 growing 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019.

Anil Chadha, managing director, ITC Hotels, told FE: "Domestic tourism has always been a strong pillar of the Indian tourism sector, and this renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihoods, regional economies and allied industries across the country. India offers an unmatched diversity of experiences — from beaches and wellness retreats to heritage destinations, wildlife and spiritual tourism — making it possible for travellers to explore world-class destinations within the country itself." He added, "During the upcoming holiday season, destinations such as Goa, Rajasthan, Kashmir and the Himalayan circuits are expected to witness strong interest, creating a positive multiplier effect for the broader hospitality and tourism ecosystem."

KB Kachru, president of the Hotel Association of India (HAI) and chairman, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, told FE:

ANIL CHADHA,
MD, ITC HOTELS

This renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihood, regional economies and allied industries

■ Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948 million in 2024

NIKHIL SHARMA, MD & COO, SOUTH ASIA, RADISSON HOTEL GROUP

Increased domestic travel will just unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations

■ Indian national departures in 2025 increased 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019

"Prioritising domestic travel can accelerate domestic consumption and presents a huge opportunity for India's tourism and hospitality sector. It will also contribute meaningfully towards conserving foreign exchange." Kachru, however, added that "there is also a need for the government to encourage and support inbound travel, which will help boost foreign exchange reserves".

Rajiv Mehra, general secretary of the Federation of Associations in Indian Tourism and Hospitality, advocated easing visa restrictions, improving connectivity, and strengthening India's tourism promotions abroad to attract more foreign tourists and boost forex reserves. Foreign tourist arrivals in India stood at 9.02 million in 2025, 9.4% lower than the previous year.

Hospitality players said it is still too early to gauge the full impact of the Prime Minister's appeal, and the industry has not witnessed any slowdown in bookings or travel demand so far.

Nikhil Sharma, managing

director and COO, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, views the development as an opportunity. "At Radisson Hotels, we are seeing this as a positive shift to strengthen our presence across diverse Indian markets through curated hospitality experiences tailored for domestic travellers. Nearly 50% of our portfolio in India is located across tier-II and III cities, and increased domestic travel will unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations."

Vision 2047 for India's tourism sector envisages a $30-trillion tourism economy, 100 million inbound visitors, 20 billion domestic visits, and nearly 200 million tourism-related jobs.

Renuka Kaushik, head of marketing, Jaypee Hotels & Resorts, said the shift is likely to be reflected more in spending patterns than in travel intent, with consumers opting for shorter holidays, domestic destinations, intimate celebrations, and more affordable experiences.

"The hospitality and travel

sector entered 2026 on a strong footing, driven by domestic tourism, weddings, MICE activity, experiential travel, and premium leisure demand. In this context, the PM's appeal may lead to a more cautious consumer mindset in the short term, especially among middle-income households," she said.

"Summer family holidays and driving destinations are seeing a strong revival, especially in northern regions like Himachal and Uttarakhand. Similar to the Covid period, whenever the global environment becomes turbulent, people tend to holiday closer to home," said Devendra Parulekar, founder of Saffron Stays, a network of private luxury vacation homes.

Rikant Pittie, CEO and co-founder of travel portal EaseMyTrip, said the Prime Minister's recent appeal could encourage a gradual shift towards more purpose-led and value-conscious travel. "This momentum towards domestic tourism could see further encouragement, while also supporting local economies and the broader tourism ecosystem," he said.

However, the Prime Minister's call to curb discretionary spending more broadly could also impact MICE travel — a significant revenue stream for the hospitality sector — and lead companies to tighten travel budgets. Several India Inc leaders have responded to the PM's call by pledging to reduce non-essential travel, a move that could affect MICE revenues.

Harsh Goenka, chairman, RPG Group, posted on X: "As responsible citizens we should try our best to contribute in whatever way we can". Corporates such as Mercedes-Benz India and Diageo India have already indicated that they will prioritise virtual meetings and limit travel to critical requirements.

Domestic tourism sector sees stronger boom in PM's appeal

VAISHALI DAR & SUGANDHA MUKHERJEE
New Delhi, May 12

THE TRAVEL AND tourism sector is in a "wait-and-watch" mode following Prime Minister Narendra Modi's call for austerity in travel, among other things.

The Prime Minister's appeal to reduce foreign trips and overseas destination weddings, and instead prioritise travel within India, spells good news for domestic tourism, which is already witnessing strong momentum. Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948.19 million in 2024. According to an HVS Anarock report, this figure could surpass 9,500 million by 2030. At the same time, outbound travel by Indians continues to rise, with Indian national departures in 2025 growing 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019.

Anil Chadha, managing director, ITC Hotels, told FE: "Domestic tourism has always been a strong pillar of the Indian tourism sector, and this renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihoods, regional economies and allied industries across the country. India offers an unmatched diversity of experiences — from beaches and wellness retreats to heritage destinations, wildlife and spiritual tourism — making it possible for travellers to explore world-class destinations within the country itself." He added, "During the upcoming holiday season, destinations such as Goa, Rajasthan, Kashmir and the Himalayan circuits are expected to witness strong interest, creating a positive multiplier effect for the broader hospitality and tourism ecosystem."

KB Kachru, president of the Hotel Association of India (HAI) and chairman, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, told FE:

ANIL CHADHA,
MD, ITC HOTELS

This renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihood, regional economies and allied industries

■ Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948 million in 2024

NIKHIL SHARMA, MD & COO, SOUTH ASIA, RADISSON HOTEL GROUP

Increased domestic travel will just unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations

■ Indian national departures in 2025 increased 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019

"Prioritising domestic travel can accelerate domestic consumption and presents a huge opportunity for India's tourism and hospitality sector. It will also contribute meaningfully towards conserving foreign exchange." Kachru, however, added that "there is also a need for the government to encourage and support inbound travel, which will help boost foreign exchange reserves".

Rajiv Mehra, general secretary of the Federation of Associations in Indian Tourism and Hospitality, advocated easing visa restrictions, improving connectivity, and strengthening India's tourism promotions abroad to attract more foreign tourists and boost forex reserves. Foreign tourist arrivals in India stood at 9.02 million in 2025, 9.4% lower than the previous year.

Hospitality players said it is still too early to gauge the full impact of the Prime Minister's appeal, and the industry has not witnessed any slowdown in bookings or travel demand so far.

Nikhil Sharma, managing

director and COO, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, views the development as an opportunity. "At Radisson Hotels, we are seeing this as a positive shift to strengthen our presence across diverse Indian markets through curated hospitality experiences tailored for domestic travellers. Nearly 50% of our portfolio in India is located across tier-II and III cities, and increased domestic travel will unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations."

Vision 2047 for India's tourism sector envisages a $3-trillion tourism economy, 100 million inbound visitors, 20 billion domestic visits, and nearly 200 million tourism-related jobs.

Renuka Kaushik, head of marketing, Jaypee Hotels & Resorts, said the shift is likely to be reflected more in spending patterns than in travel intent, with consumers opting for shorter holidays, domestic destinations, intimate celebrations, and more affordable experiences.

"The hospitality and travel

sector entered 2026 on a strong footing, driven by domestic tourism, weddings, MICE activity, experiential travel, and premium leisure demand. In this context, the PM's appeal may lead to a more cautious consumer mindset in the short term, especially among middle-income households," she said.

"Summer family holidays and driving destinations are seeing a strong revival, especially in northern regions like Himachal and Uttarakhand. Similar to the Covid period, whenever the global environment becomes turbulent, people tend to holiday closer to home," said Devendra Parulekar, founder of Saffron Stays, a network of private luxury vacation homes.

Rikant Pittie, CEO and co-founder of travel portal EaseMyTrip, said the Prime Minister's recent appeal could encourage a gradual shift towards more purpose-led and value-conscious travel. "This momentum towards domestic tourism could see further encouragement, while also supporting local economies and the broader tourism ecosystem," he said.

However, the Prime Minister's call to curb discretionary spending more broadly could also impact MICE travel — a significant revenue stream for the hospitality sector — and lead companies to tighten travel budgets. Several India Inc leaders have responded to the PM's call by pledging to reduce non-essential travel, a move that could affect MICE revenues.

Harsh Goenka, chairman, RPG Group, posted on X: "As responsible citizens we should try our best to contribute in whatever way we can". Corporates such as Mercedes-Benz India and Diageo India have already indicated that they will prioritise virtual meetings and limit travel to critical requirements.

Domestic tourism sector sees stronger boom in PM's appeal

VAISHALI DAR & SUGANDHA MUKHERJEE
New Delhi, May 12

THE TRAVEL AND tourism sector is in a "wait-and-watch" mode following Prime Minister Narendra Modi's call for austerity in travel, among other things. The Prime Minister's appeal to reduce foreign trips and overseas destination weddings, and instead prioritise travel within India, spells good news for domestic tourism, which is already witnessing strong momentum. Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948.19 million in 2024. According to an HVS Anarock report, this figure could surpass 9,500 million by 2030. At the same time, outbound travel by Indians continues to rise, with Indian national departures in 2025 growing 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019.

Anil Chadha, managing director, ITC Hotels, told FE: "Domestic tourism has always been a strong pillar of the Indian tourism sector, and this renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihoods, regional economies and allied industries across the country. India offers an unmatched diversity of experiences — from beaches and wellness retreats to heritage destinations, wildlife and spiritual tourism — making it possible for travellers to explore world-class destinations within the country itself." He added, "During the upcoming holiday season, destinations such as Goa, Rajasthan, Kashmir and the Himalayas are expected to witness strong interest, creating a positive multiplier effect for the broader hospitality and tourism ecosystem." KB Kachru, president of the Hotel Association of India (HAI) and chairman, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, told FE:

ANIL CHADHA,
MD, ITC HOTELS

This renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihood, regional economies and allied industries

■ Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948 million in 2024

NIKHIL SHARMA, MD & COO, SOUTH ASIA, RADISSON HOTEL GROUP

Increased domestic travel will just unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations

■ Indian national departures in 2025 increased 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019

"Prioritising domestic travel can accelerate domestic consumption and presents a huge opportunity for India's tourism and hospitality sector. It will also contribute meaningfully towards conserving foreign exchange." Kachru, however, added that "there is also a need for the government to encourage and support inbound travel, which will help boost foreign exchange reserves".

Rajiv Mehra, general secretary of the Federation of Associations in Indian Tourism and Hospitality, advocated easing visa restrictions, improving connectivity, and strengthening India's tourism promotions abroad to attract more foreign tourists and boost forex reserves. Foreign tourist arrivals in India stood at 9.02 million in 2025, 9.4% lower than the previous year.

Hospitality players said it is still too early to gauge the full impact of the Prime Minister's appeal, and the industry has not witnessed any slowdown in bookings or travel demand so far. Nikhil Sharma, managing director and COO, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, views the development as an opportunity. "At Radisson Hotels, we are seeing this as a positive shift to strengthen our presence across diverse Indian markets through curated hospitality experiences tailored for domestic travellers. Nearly 50% of our portfolio in India is located across tier-II and III cities, and increased domestic travel will unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations."

Vision 2047 for India's tourism sector envisages a $3-trillion tourism economy, 100 million inbound visitors, 20 billion domestic visits, and nearly 200 million tourism-related jobs.

Renjuka Kaushik, head of marketing, Jaypee Hotels & Resorts, said the shift is likely to be reflected more in spending patterns than in travel intent, with consumers opting for shorter holidays, domestic destinations, intimate celebrations, and more affordable experiences.

"The hospitality and travel

sector entered 2026 on a strong footing, driven by domestic tourism, weddings, MICE activity, experiential travel, and premium leisure demand. In this context, the PM's appeal may lead to a more cautious consumer mindset in the short term, especially among middle-income households," she said.

"Summer family holidays and driving destinations are seeing a strong revival, especially in northern regions like Himachal and Uttarakhand. Similar to the Covid period, whenever the global environment becomes turbulent, people tend to holiday closer to home," said Devendra Parulekar, founder of Saffron Stays, a network of private luxury vacation homes. Rikant Pittie, CEO and co-founder of travel portal EaseMyTrip, said the Prime Minister's recent appeal could encourage a gradual shift towards more purpose-led and value-conscious travel. "This momentum towards domestic tourism could see further encouragement, while also through curated local economies and the broader tourism ecosystem," he said.

However, the Prime Minister's call to curb discretionary spending more broadly could also impact MICE travel — a significant revenue stream for the hospitality sector — and lead companies to tighten travel budgets. Several India Inc leaders have responded to the PM's clarion call by pledging to reduce non-essential travel, a move that could affect MICE revenues.

Harsh Goenka, chairman, RPG Group, posted on X: "As responsible citizens we should try our best to contribute in whatever way we can". Corporates such as Mercedes-Benz India and Diageo India have already indicated that they will prioritise virtual meetings and limit travel to critical requirements.

Domestic tourism sector sees stronger boom in PM's appeal

VAISHALI DAR & SUGANDHA MUKHERJEE
New Delhi, May 12

THE TRAVEL AND tourism sector is in a "wait-and-watch" mode following Prime Minister Narendra Modi's call for austerity in travel, among other things. The Prime Minister's appeal to reduce foreign trips and overseas destination weddings, and instead prioritise travel within India, spells good news for domestic tourism, which is already witnessing strong momentum. Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948.19 million in 2024. According to an HVS Anarock report, this figure could surpass 9,500 million by 2030. At the same time, outbound travel by Indians continues to rise, with Indian national departures in 2025 growing 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019.

Increased domestic travel will just unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations

■ Indian national departures in 2025 increased 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019

"Prioritising domestic travel can accelerate domestic consumption and presents a huge opportunity for India's tourism and hospitality sector. It will also contribute meaningfully towards conserving foreign exchange." Kachru, however, added that "there is also a need for the government to encourage and support inbound travel, which will help boost foreign exchange reserves".

Rajiv Mehra, general secretary of the Federation of Associations in Indian Tourism and Hospitality, advocated easing visa restrictions, improving connectivity, and strengthening India's tourism promotions abroad to attract more foreign tourists and boost forex reserves. Foreign tourist arrivals in India stood at 9.02 million in 2025, 9.4% lower than the previous year.

Hospitality players said it is still too early to gauge the full impact of the Prime Minister's appeal, and the industry has not witnessed any slowdown in bookings or travel demand so far.

Nikhil Sharma, managing

director and COO, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, views the development as an opportunity. "At Radisson Hotels, we are seeing this as a positive shift to strengthen our presence across diverse Indian markets through curated hospitality experiences tailored for domestic travellers. Nearly 50% of our portfolio in India is located across tier-II and III cities, and increased domestic travel will unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations."

Vision 2047 for India's tourism sector envisages a $3-trillion tourism economy, 100 million inbound visitors, 20 billion domestic visits, and nearly 200 million tourism-related jobs.

Renuka Kaushik, head of marketing, Jaypee Hotels & Resorts, said the shift is likely to be reflected more in spending patterns than in travel intent, with consumers opting for shorter holidays, domestic destinations, intimate celebrations, and more affordable experiences.

"The hospitality and travel

sector entered 2026 on a strong footing, driven by domestic tourism, weddings, MICE activity, experiential travel, and premium leisure demand. In this context, the PM's appeal may lead to a more cautious consumer mindset in the short term, especially among middle-income households," she said.

"Summer family holidays and driving destinations are seeing a strong revival, especially in northern regions like Himachal and Uttarakhand. Similar to the Covid period, whenever the global environment becomes turbulent, people tend to holiday closer to home," said Devendra Parulekar, founder of Saffron Stays, a network of private luxury vacation homes.

Rikant Pittie, CEO and co-founder of travel portal EaseMyTrip, said the Prime Minister's recent appeal could encourage a gradual shift towards more purpose-led and value-conscious travel. "This momentum towards domestic tourism could see further encouragement, while also supporting local economies and the broader tourism ecosystem," he said.

However, the Prime Minister's call to curb discretionary spending more broadly could also impact MICE travel — a significant revenue stream for the hospitality sector — and lead companies to tighten travel budgets. Several India Inc leaders have responded to the PM's call by pledging to reduce non-essential travel, a move that could affect MICE revenues.

Harsh Goenka, chairman, RPG Group, posted on X: "As responsible citizens we should try our best to contribute in whatever way we can". Corporates such as Mercedes-Benz India and Diageo India have already indicated that they will prioritise virtual meetings and limit travel to critical requirements.

Domestic tourism sector sees stronger boom in PM's appeal

Anil Chadha, managing director, ITC Hotels, told FE: "Domestic tourism has always been a strong pillar of the Indian tourism sector, and this renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihoods, regional economies and allied industries across the country. India offers an unmatched diversity of experiences — from beaches and wellness retreats to heritage destinations, wildlife and spiritual tourism — making it possible for travellers to explore world-class destinations within the country itself." He added, "During the upcoming holiday season, destinations such as Goa, Rajasthan, Kashmir and the Himalayan circuits are expected to witness strong interest, creating a positive multiplier effect for the broader hospitality and tourism ecosystem."

KB Kachru, president of the Hotel Association of India (HAI) and chairman, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, told FE:

Rikant Pittie, CEO and co-founder of travel portal EaseMyTrip, said the Prime Minister's recent appeal could encourage a gradual shift towards more purpose-led and value-conscious travel. "This momentum towards domestic tourism could see further encouragement, while also supporting local economies and the broader tourism ecosystem," he said.

However, the Prime Minister's call to curb discretionary spending more broadly could also impact MICE travel — a significant revenue stream for the hospitality sector — and lead companies to tighten travel budgets. Several India Inc leaders have responded to the PM's call by pledging to reduce non-essential travel, a move that could affect MICE revenues.

Harsh Goenka, chairman, RPG Group, posted on X: "As responsible citizens we should try our best to contribute in whatever way we can". Corporates such as Mercedes-Benz India and Diageo India have already indicated that they will prioritise virtual meetings and limit travel to critical requirements.

Domestic tourism sector sees stronger boom in PM's appeal

VAISHALI DAR & SUGANDHA MUKHERJEE
New Delhi, May 12

THE TRAVEL AND tourism sector is in a "wait-and-watch" mode following Prime Minister Narendra Modi's call for austerity in travel, among other things. The Prime Minister's appeal to reduce foreign trips and overseas destination weddings, and instead prioritise travel within India, spells good news for domestic tourism, which is already witnessing strong momentum. Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948.19 million in 2024. According to an HVS Anarock report, this figure could surpass 9,500 million by 2030. At the same time, outbound travel by Indians continues to rise, with Indian national departures in 2025 growing 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019.

ANIL CHADHA,
MD, ITC HOTELS

This renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihood, regional economies and allied industries

■ Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948 million in 2024

NIKHIL SHARMA, MD & COO, SOUTH ASIA, RADISSON HOTEL GROUP

Increased domestic travel will just unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations

■ Indian national departures in 2025 increased 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019

"Prioritising domestic travel can accelerate domestic consumption and presents a huge opportunity for India's tourism and hospitality sector. It will also contribute meaningfully towards conserving foreign exchange." Kachru, however, added that "there is also a need for the government to encourage and support inbound travel, which will help boost foreign exchange reserves".

Rajiv Mehra, general secretary of the Federation of Associations in Indian Tourism and Hospitality, advocated easing visa restrictions, improving connectivity, and strengthening India's tourism promotions abroad to attract more foreign tourists and boost forex reserves. Foreign tourist arrivals in India stood at 9.02 million in 2025, 9.4% lower than the previous year.

Hospitality players said it is still too early to gauge the full impact of the Prime Minister's appeal, and the industry has not witnessed any slowdown in bookings or travel demand so far.

Nikhil Sharma, managing director and COO, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, views the development as an opportunity. "At Radisson Hotels, we are seeing this as a positive shift to strengthen our presence across diverse Indian markets through curated hospitality experiences tailored for domestic travellers. Nearly 50% of our portfolio in India is located across tier-II and III cities, and increased domestic travel will unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations."

Vision 2047 for India's tourism sector envisages a $3-trillion tourism economy, 100 million inbound visitors, 20 billion domestic visits, and nearly 200 million tourism-related jobs.

Renuka Kaushik, head of marketing, Jaypee Hotels & Resorts, said the shift is likely to be reflected more in spending patterns than in travel intent, with consumers opting for shorter holidays, domestic destinations, intimate celebrations, and more affordable experiences. "The hospitality and travel sector entered 2026 on a strong footing, driven by domestic tourism, weddings, MICE activity, experiential travel, and premium leisure demand. In this context, the PM's appeal may lead to a more cautious consumer mindset in the short term, especially among middle-income households," she said.

"Summer family holidays and driving destinations are seeing a strong revival, especially in northern regions like Himachal and Uttarakhand. Similar to the Covid period, whenever the global environment becomes turbulent, people tend to holiday closer to home," said Devendra Parulekar, founder of Saffron Stays, a network of private luxury vacation homes.

Rikant Pittie, CEO and co-founder of travel portal EaseMyTrip, said the Prime Minister's recent appeal could encourage a gradual shift towards more purpose-led and value-conscious travel. "This momentum towards domestic tourism could see further encouragement, while also supporting local economies and the broader tourism ecosystem," he said.

However, the Prime Minister's call to curb discretionary spending more broadly could also impact MICE travel — a significant revenue stream for the hospitality sector — and lead companies to tighten travel budgets. Several India Inc leaders have responded to the PM's call by pledging to reduce non-essential travel, a move that could affect MICE revenues.

Harsh Goenka, chairman, RPG Group, posted on X: "As responsible citizens we should try our best to contribute in whatever way we can". Corporates such as Mercedes-Benz India and Diageo India have already indicated that they will prioritise virtual meetings and limit travel to critical requirements.

Domestic tourism sector sees stronger boom in PM's appeal

VAISHALI DAR & SUGANDHA MUKHERJEE
New Delhi, May 12

THE TRAVEL AND tourism sector is in a "wait-and-watch" mode following Prime Minister Narendra Modi's call for austerity in travel, among other things.

The Prime Minister's appeal to reduce foreign trips and overseas destination weddings, and instead prioritise travel within India, spells good news for domestic tourism, which is already witnessing strong momentum. Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948.19 million in 2024. According to an HVS Anarock report, this figure could surpass 9,500 million by 2030. At the same time, outbound travel by Indians continues to rise, with Indian national departures in 2025 growing 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019.

Anil Chadha, managing director, ITC Hotels, told FE: "Domestic tourism has always been a strong pillar of the Indian tourism sector, and this renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihoods, regional economies and allied industries across the country. India offers an unmatched diversity of experiences — from beaches and wellness retreats to heritage destinations, wildlife and spiritual tourism — making it possible for travellers to explore world-class destinations within the country itself." He added, "During the upcoming holiday season, destinations such as Goa, Rajasthan, Kashmir and the Himalayan circuits are expected to witness strong interest, creating a positive multiplier effect for the broader hospitality and tourism ecosystem."

KB Kachru, president of the Hotel Association of India (HAI) and chairman, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, told FE:

ANIL CHADHA,
MD, ITC HOTELS

This renewed focus can further strengthen local livelihood, regional economies and allied industries

■ Domestic tourist visits in 2025 were estimated at 4,548 million, marking a 54% increase from 2,948 million in 2024

NIKHIL SHARMA, MD & COO, SOUTH ASIA, RADISSON HOTEL GROUP

Increased domestic travel will just unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations

■ Indian national departures in 2025 increased 5.9% over the previous year and 21.5% compared to 2019

"Prioritising domestic travel can accelerate domestic consumption and presents a huge opportunity for India's tourism and hospitality sector. It will also contribute meaningfully towards conserving foreign exchange." Kachru, however, added that "there is also a need for the government to encourage and support inbound travel, which will help boost foreign exchange reserves".

Rajiv Mehra, general secretary of the Federation of Associations in Indian Tourism and Hospitality, advocated easing visa restrictions, improving connectivity, and strengthening India's tourism promotions abroad to attract more foreign tourists and boost forex reserves. Foreign tourist arrivals in India stood at 9.02 million in 2025, 9.4% lower than the previous year.

Hospitality players said it is still too early to gauge the full impact of the Prime Minister's appeal, and the industry has not witnessed any slowdown in bookings or travel demand so far.

Nikhil Sharma, managing

director and COO, South Asia, Radisson Hotel Group, views the development as an opportunity. "At Radisson Hotels, we are seeing this as a positive shift to strengthen our presence across diverse Indian markets through curated hospitality experiences tailored for domestic travellers. Nearly 50% of our portfolio in India is located across tier-II and III cities, and increased domestic travel will unlock the tourism potential of emerging destinations."

Vision 2047 for India's tourism sector envisages a $30-trillion tourism economy, 100 million inbound visitors, 20 billion domestic visits, and nearly 200 million tourism-related jobs.

Renuka Kaushik, head of marketing, Jaypee Hotels & Resorts, said the shift is likely to be reflected more in spending patterns than in travel intent, with consumers opting for shorter holidays, domestic destinations, intimate celebrations, and more affordable experiences.

"The hospitality and travel

sector entered 2026 on a strong footing, driven by domestic tourism, weddings, MICE activity, experiential travel, and premium leisure demand. In this context, the PM's appeal may lead to a more cautious consumer mindset in the short term, especially among middle-income households," she said.

"Summer family holidays and driving destinations are seeing a strong revival, especially in northern regions like Himachal and Uttarakhand. Similar to the Covid period, whenever the global environment becomes turbulent, people tend to holiday closer to home," said Devendra Parulekar, founder of Saffron Stays, a network of private luxury vacation homes.

Rikant Pittie, CEO and co-founder of travel portal EaseMyTrip, said the Prime Minister's recent appeal could encourage a gradual shift towards more purpose-led and value-conscious travel. "This momentum towards domestic tourism could see further encouragement, while also supporting local economies and the broader tourism ecosystem," he said.

However, the Prime Minister's call to curb discretionary spending more broadly could also impact MICE travel — a significant revenue stream for the hospitality sector — and lead companies to tighten travel budgets. Several India Inc leaders have responded to the PM's call by pledging to reduce non-essential travel, a move that could affect MICE revenues.

Harsh Goenka, chairman, RPG Group, posted on X: "As responsible citizens we should try our best to contribute in whatever way we can". Corporates such as Mercedes-Benz India and Diageo India have already indicated that they will prioritise virtual meetings and limit travel to critical requirements.
